

Our Best Flour

Guarantee to make more Bread
and Better Bread than any others

A. REID

VOL. XXI.

GORDON & ADON, Publisher.

Ponoka Herald

PONOKA ALBERTA, JANUARY 20, 1921

PONOKA DISTRICT, FIRST, LAST, AND ALL THE TIME.

Russell's

Subscription: 10

MEN'S FUR COATS

At Less Than Cost Of Manufacture

WE have on hand a few good Fur Coats made specially for Comfort and Durability, and are very suitable for farmers.

Quality of the Material and Workmanship Guaranteed

We are prepared to sell these at Considerable Loss in order to Clear

Black and Brown Korean Beaver, Regular $55.00
for.....$37.50

Brown Shearling, Regular $40.00 for.....$24.95

These are real Bargains, and will be snapped up very quickly. Coats are easily worth the price for one trip on a cold day. Cheaper than medicine or doctors bills

A. REID

GENERAL MERCHANT

PHONE 15

PONOKA, ALBERTA

Winter Goods At Bargain Prices

The every day need in Man's Furnishings is provided for at this store. Not only do we guarantee our goods, but satisfactory prices.

T. J. DURKIN

Clothing, Furnishings & Shoes
Ponoka, Alta.

STOCK TO FEED

Can feed about 20 head of Cattle until Spring. Interested parties should see us.

NOTICE

The Annual Meeting of the Shareholders, Ponoka U.F.A. Cooperative Association, will be held in the Town Hall on Wednesday, January 25th, at 1:30 p.m.

TIRE SERVICE

Vulcanizing and Re-treading
Fire and Truck Tires
Automotive, Gasoline and Oil
Free Air, Grease Service,
NOW LOCATED IN FOUR GARAGE

E. CANNON

Auto Tire and Vulcanizing
Works

A Square Deal In

OUR MEAT MARKET

IS THE RULE

Best Quality and Lowest Prices in all
FRESH AND CURED MEATS
QUICK SERVICE

FRITZ BACHOR

BUTCHER, PONOKA

PHONE 20

WATER PAID SYSTEMS

PROVIDE AN ABUNDANCE OF RUNNING
WATER for the home and farm.

PAUL SYSTEMS

SAVE LABOR—No more pumping and carrying of water by hand.
BRING CONVENIENCES—Water for kitchen, bath, toilet, laundry, etc.
PROTECT HEALTH—Keep the home clean and sanitary.

PROTECT PROPERTY—Water, under pressure for fighting fire.
INCREASE FARM PRODUCTION—Water, in abundance, for stock and irrigation.
INCREASE PROPERTY VALUES—In a hard dried way.

The cost shows that the popular equipment to be installed in your basement is a rubber connection pipe and connected with your well or cistern. For a full description of the water paid system, call on me or write to me.

L. M. Webster

Canada Can Retaliate

New York Paper Issues Warning

New York, Jan. 15.—The New York World this morning deals editorially with the recent tariff shown by Canadian newspapers over the proposed emergency tariff now being considered by the Senate Finance Committee at Washington. It mentions specifically editorials in the Toronto World, Toronto Globe, Montreal Star, Toronto Telegram, Manitoba Free Press, Victoria Colonist and the Regina Post advocating retaliatory emergency tariffs.

"They reflect a disposition up that way to strike back," the World says. "Next to the United Kingdom, Canada of all countries in the world, is our best customer. We exported to the Dominion last year more than $100,000,000 worth of merchandise. We imported in return only about $57,000,000 worth. Our exports consisted chiefly of manufactures. Our imports from that quarter consisted chiefly of the raw materials of manufacture. No economic proposition is simpler or more indisputable than that, if we further cripple Canada's ability to pay, we shall by the same measure reduce our present enormous export trade to Canada. And this is what the Canadian and McManis tariff bills, preparing or proposed, aim to do, and will do."

"The folly of this legislation is even greater than thus appears. Canada, above all other customers of ours, is in a position to hit back. She can get most of the manufactures now bought in the United States from Great Britain just as well, and a strong preferential tariff in favour of the mother country cannot fail to hit the manufacturing industry of the United States as a dangerous blow. And this is precisely what Canada is preparing to do, if Congress shall provide the retaliation."

"The World concludes: 'This is not merely a Boerism that cannot even learn that a war has been fought and the whole foreign trade of the United States radically changed. It is suicidal idleness.'"

Was there ever a convention of the United Farmers of Alberta that was not attended in or passed out with a deep snow fall and lots of zero weather? Never mind, it does not dampen their ardor.

Born to Mr and Mrs R. C. Nelson, of Calmar, on Wednesday, January 12, a daughter.

The ladies entertainment committee for January gave their entertainment and picnic social on Thursday last. The assistance in entertaining with songs and recitals by Mrs C. C. Reed, J. Montgomery and Mr Jones was much appreciated. The results were over-whelming, and the ladies found their treasury could easily finance the convention delegates.

The annual school election was held last Saturday. Two trustees were elected, Mrs J. R. Reed and Mrs J. R. Reed. The trustees were re-elected for a second year. The trustees were re-elected for a second year.

Mr and Mrs H. Ryerson were entertained a number of friends at their home last night.

Mrs J. B. Phillips and Mrs H. E. Ryerson are delegates for the C.F.W.A.

Price Cutting in Great Britain

London, Jan. 15.—England is in the throes of the greatest price-cutting campaign ever known. The prices of shoes and hats are going down in prices in some cases as low as previous levels. Clothing, groceries, food and furniture are also in the same line. The thousands of women, with an accompanying army of men, are buying these goods in great quantities. The rate of exchange is also dropping. Large orders were cancelled, and the rate of exchange is also dropping. Large orders were cancelled, and the rate of exchange is also dropping.

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

"The bottom has dropped out of all demand during the past year," says the London director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling, and then the rate of exchange dropping against the pound sterling."

Glen Fallow & Vicinity

Our weather continues fine. So much, there is very little sale for hay and poor sleighing.

The Chesterford ladies cleaned (Glen) the dance they gave in the hall recently. Said money goes towards the piano they purchased last spring.

Mr and Mrs Raymond Graham and infant daughter left for their home and near Peora, Alberta, a week ago. They were here on a visit to her parents, Mr and Mrs Lawrence Duran.

Mrs Charles Plester is very busy with her heart. We are sorry to report.

Sam Duran shipped a car load of cattle to Calgary recently. We have not heard what the returns were. Of late, when a farmer goes to buy in town it is worse than a man's life. Prices don't drop a fast there.

Mr and Mrs Frank Boyd and daughter, Mr and Mrs R. L. Fleming and daughter, Kathleen, a week ago. They were here on a visit to her parents, Mr and Mrs Lawrence Duran.

The Chesterford Ladies Institute held a meeting January 12 at the home of Mrs. J. R. Duran. A good time and dinner were enjoyed.

The Westknight Mountain purchased a team of drivers from Clarence Tompkins recently.

The Montford located and took into custody the three men who broke into the Fallow store.

A. Maki and family spent last Sunday at the C.S. Chapin home.

A. Johnson and Arthur Brown have been getting out of the Fallow store.

It is reported Henry Kramer has an old when it comes to photographs, having purchased one which cost him nearly $70.

The U.F.A. are getting busy around here. They gave a free supper, lecture and dance at the Fallow hall New Year's eve. They gave a lecture at Brookings hall, January 10th, and we understand there will be one at Chesterford in the near future.

TEACHER WANTED
Teacher wanted for Grand Meadow School No. 671. Dates to commence at once. Salary and give references.
L. FLEMING, Secy.

EMPRESS

SPECIAL
Thursday & Friday
January 20 and 21

"Tarzan of the Apes"

This is a First-class Picture and has been shown in all the Big Theatres

PRICES:
Adults, 50c; Children, 10c

SATURDAY JAN. 22
"Deadlier Than
The Male"

Featuring Ethel Clayton
10 and 15c

Our New Strout Catalogue

will go to press shortly. We want listings for this catalogue, which will be placed in the hands of thousands of farm buyers.

Please Note:
WE DO NOT TAKE EXCLUSIVE LISTINGS

WE ARE STILL LOANING MONEY AT 8 Per Cent.

We have an Improved Half Section to exchange for a Well Improved Quarter Section

Meiklejohn, Laubman, Halvorsen
LIMITED

Edmonton Office: 207 McLeod Building

Phone 88

Office in Basement of Royal Hotel

Our Best Flour
Guarantee to make more Bread
and Better Bread than any others
A. REID

VOL. XXI.

Grounds Editor, Publisher.

Ponoka Herald

PONOKA ALBERTA, JANUARY 20, 1921

PONOKA DISTRICT, FIRST, LAST, AND ALL THE TIME.

Mason & McQuinn

McCall Patterns

10c, 15c & 20c

A. REID

NO. 14

Subscription $1.50

MEN'S FUR COATS

At Less Than Cost Of Manufacture

WE have on hand a few good Fur Coats made specially for Comfort and Durability, and are very suitable for farmers.

Quality of the Material and Workmanship
Guaranteed

We are prepared to sell these at Considerable Loss in order to Clear

Black and Brown Korean Beaver, Regular $55.00
for.....$37.50

Brown Shearling, Regular $40.00 for.....$24.95

These are real Bargains, and will be snapped up very quickly. Coats are easily worth the price for one trip on a cold day. Cheaper than medicine or doctors bills

A. REID

GENERAL MERCHANT

PHONE 15

PONOKA, ALBERTA

Winter Goods At Bargain Prices

The every day need in Man's Furnishings is provided for at this store. Not only do we guarantee our goods, but satisfactory prices.

T. J. DURKIN

Clothing, Furnishings & Shoes
Ponoka, Alta.

STOCK TO FEED

Can Feed about 20 head of Cattle until Spring. Interested parties should see us.
G. L. DEAR, Phone 65

NOTICE

The Annual Meeting of the Shareholders, Ponoka U.F.A. Cooperative Association will be held in the Town Hall on Wednesday, January 27th, at 1:30 p.m.
G. N. FIELD, Secy.

TIRE SERVICE

Valuing and Re-treading
Tires and Tubes in
Automobiles, Machines and Oil
Free Air. Quick & Service.
NOW LOCATED IN FORD
GARAGE

E. CANNON

Auto Tire and Valve Grinding
Works

A Square Deal In

OUR
MEAT MARKET

IS THE RULE

Best Quality and Lowest Prices in all
FRESH AND CURED MEATS
QUICK SERVICE

FRITZ BAERH

BUTCHER, PONOKA

PHONE 20

WATER PAID SYSTEMS

PROVIDE AN ABUNDANCE OF RUNNING
WATER FOR THE HOME AND FARM.

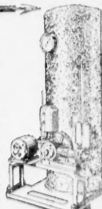

PAUL SYSTEMS—

SAVE LABOR—No more pumping and carrying of water by hand.
BRING CONVENIENCES—Water for kitchen, bath, toilet, laundry, etc.
PROTECT HEALTH—Keep the home clean and sanitary.

PROTECT PROPERTY—Water, under pressure for fighting fire.
INCREASE FARM PRODUCTION—Water, in abundance, for stock and irrigation.
INCREASE PROPERTY VALUES—In a hard dry way.

The cost shows that the popular equipment to be installed in your basement or other convenient place and connected with your well or cistern. Price upon plenty of pure water for every purpose. Satisfaction, reliable.

L. M. Webster

Our New Strout Catalogue

will go to press shortly. We want listings for this catalogue, which will be placed in the hands of thousands of farm buyers.

Please Note:

WE DO NOT TAKE EXCLUSIVE LISTINGS

WE ARE STILL LOANING MONEY AT 8 Per Cent.

We have an Improved Half Section, to exchange for a Well Improved Quarter Section

Meiklejohn, Laubman, Halvorsen
LIMITED

Edmonton Office: 207 McLeod Building

Phone 88

Office in Basement of Royal Hotel

Canada Can Retaliate

New York Paper Issues
Warning

New York, Jan. 18.—The New York World this morning deals editorially with the resentment shown by Canadian newspapers over the proposed emergency tariff now being considered by the senate finance committee at Washington. It mentions specifically editorials in the Toronto World, Toronto Globe, Montreal Star, Toronto Telegram, Manitoba Free Press, Victoria Colonist and the Regina Post advocating retaliatory emergency tariffs.

"They reflect a disposition up that way to strike back," the World says. "Next to the United Kingdom, Canada of all other countries in the world is our best customer. We exported to the dominion last fiscal year more than $200,000,000 worth of merchandise. We imported in return only about $537,000,000 worth. Our exports consisted chiefly of manufactures. Our imports from that quarter consisted chiefly of raw materials of manufacture. No commerce proposition is simpler or more indisputable than that if we further cripple Canada's ability to pay, we shall by the same measure reduce our present enormous export trade to Canada. And this is what the Farley and McQuinn tariff bill, as yet unprepared, aims to do and will do."

"The folly of this legislation is even greater than this appears. Canada, above all other customers of ours, is in a position to hit back. She can get most of the manufactures now brought to the United States from Great Britain just as well, and a strong preferential tariff in favour of the mother country cannot fail to hit the manufacturing industry of the United States a staggering blow. And this is precisely what Canada is preparing to do if Congress shall provoke the retaliation."

The World concludes: "This is not merely a Bourgeoisism that can not even learn that a war has been fought and the whole foreign trade of the United States radically changed. It is suicidal idiosyncrasy."

Asker

Was there ever a convention of the United Farmers of Alberta that was not attended in or passed out with a deep snow fall and lot of zero weather? Never mind, it does not dampen their ardor.

Born, to Mr and Mrs R. C. Nelson, of Calumet, on Wednesday, January 12, a daughter.

The ladies entertainment committee for January gave their entertainment and pie social on Thursday last. The assistance in entertaining with solos and recitals by Mrs C. C. Reel, J. Montgomery and Mr Jones was much appreciated. The results were overwhelming, and the ladies found their treasury could easily finance the convention delegates.

The annual school election was held last Saturday. Two trustees were elected, Mrs J. E. Reel and Mrs. Jones. The assistance in entertaining with solos and recitals by Mrs C. C. Reel, J. Montgomery and Mr Jones was much appreciated. The results were overwhelming, and the ladies found their treasury could easily finance the convention delegates.

Mr and Mrs H. Renschberg entertained a number of friends at a luncheon last Saturday.

Mrs J. E. Phillips and Mrs H. E. Krefting are delegates for the C.F.W.A.

Price Cutting in Great Britain

London, Jan. 18.—England is in the throes of the greatest price-cutting campaign ever known. "Cuddling shoes and hats are going down in price, in some cases as low as previous level. Camera glasses, food and furniture are also in the sale lists. Ten of thousands of women, with an accompanying army of men, are bargain hunting. Prices of garments for both men and women in many cases are 50 per cent below manufacturing cost. Men's all wool suits are being sold at one large tailoring establishment at $10.00, and they include hats, shoes, fingered gloves and ties. Every one of these carries an allowed guarantee. Men's shoes, which sold at from $5 to $10 per pair three months ago are now sold for $7.50.

"The bottom has dropped out of the demand during the past year," says the managing director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the money stringency in the United States. Large orders were cancelled, and the rate of exchange rose sharply against the pound. Further cancellations from the United States and wholesale houses are thus left with huge stocks on their shelves. They are selling on the installment plan, and most move the goods. They are selling on the installment plan, and most move the goods. They are selling on the installment plan, and most move the goods."

"The bottom has dropped out of the demand during the past year," says the managing director of one of London's biggest stores. "This began with the money stringency in the United States. Large orders were cancelled, and the rate of exchange rose sharply against the pound. Further cancellations from the United States and wholesale houses are thus left with huge stocks on their shelves. They are selling on the installment plan, and most move the goods. They are selling on the installment plan, and most move the goods. They are selling on the installment plan, and most move the goods."

Buckhorn

Jan. 10
Hell has dawned up here with a terrific fire of gloom. Why, this wonderful gift from the weather man is making our hearts lighter, brighter and happier. With our sleeves rolled up, we can count up extra work, the stock can peacefully graze, and in spite of grain still standing in stacks we can still whistle and sing that cheery song.

A few of the good folks of Crystal Springs paid Golf Links a visit last week. A very enjoyable and exciting day was spent, and they returned home with a goodly supply of fish.

Mrs. Prishie and her son, Richard, paid Rimbey a visit last week. Ray Strauss is again a visitor to the Buckhorn district, visiting C. King at the postoffice.

A delightful party of young folks spent last Friday evening at the spruce hall, taking in the musical ball. A swell time is the report.

Vancouver and Switzer are in our district on the well-known business. We hope they can relieve us poor farmers of this our great worry.

Do not forget that the gym class is being held now every Thursday evening. All are cordially invited to our very encouraging class.

A very enjoyable dance was held in Crystal Springs school, under the management of the Girls' Glee Club. Thanking all visitors from outlying districts, we hope to welcome them again on February 11th, at the St. Valentine's masquerade dance, under the management of the ladies of Crystal Springs.

Mr and Mrs Joe Holzhorn have returned from Edmonton, where they have been having a vacation. Their little daughter, Mrs. Shuman's daughter, is with them.

Ben Taylor is a visitor at the home of Mrs. P. P. and took in the dance at Crystal Springs.

Glen Fallow & Vicinity

Our weather continues fine. So much, there is very little sale for hay and poor sleighing.

The Glenfallow ladies cleared $51.00 on the dance they gave in the hall recently. Said money goes toward the piano they purchased last spring.

Mr and Mrs Raymond Graham and infant daughter left for their home near Peora, Alberta, a week ago. They were here on a visit to her parents, Mr and Mrs Lyndon Doran.

Mrs. Charles Pletzer is very poorly with her heart. We are sorry to report.

Sam Doran shipped a car load of cattle to Calgary recently. We have not heard what the returns were. Of late, when a farmer goes to sell anything he commences to catch for breath, and when he goes to buy in town it is worse and amounts of it. Prices don't drop as fast there.

Mr and Mrs Frank Boyd and daughter, Mr and Mrs R. L. Fleming and daughter, Kathleen, and Mr and Mrs Tom McKeen were dinner guests at the Neelley home last Sunday.

The Glenfallow Ladies Institute held their meeting, January 12 at the home near Chesterbrook. A good time and dinner were enjoyed.

The Vetsakwin Mountain purchased a team of drivers from Clarence Tompkins recently.

The Mountain hospital and took into custody the three men who broke into the Fallon store.

A. Maki and family spent last Sunday at the C. S. Chapin place.

A Johnson and Arthur Brown have been getting out snow for P. Patches.

It is reported Henry Kramer has a as all best when it comes to photographs, having purchased one which cost him nearly $200.

The U.F.A. are getting busy around here. They gave a free oyster supper, lecture and dance at the Fin hall New Year's eve. They gave a lecture at Brookman hall, January 16th, and we understand there will be one at Chesterbrook in the near future.

TEACHER WANTED

Teacher wanted for Grand Meadow School No. 471. Duties to commence at once. State salary and give references.
L. FLEMING, Secy.

EMPRESS

SPECIAL

Thursday & Friday
January 20 and 21

"Tarzan
of the Apes"

This is a First-Class Picture and has been shown in all the Big Theatres

PRICES:
Adults, 50c; Children, 15c

SATURDAY Jan. 22

"Deadlier Than
The Male"

Featuring Ethel Clayton
15c and 25c

We Have On Track ONE CAR

MONARCH
Drumheller Coal

ORDER NOW!

BOWKER & McKELVEY
DONALD AVENUE

Phone 74
PONOKA

The Columbia Gramophone

—has a unique feature which makes it a superior machine. It is the automatic stop without the setting inconvenient. Just start the machine with your favorite record and go to your work; the perfect automatic stop will work exactly at the right time.

SEE IT AT THE JEWELRY STORE

W. GLAUSER

WATCHMAKER AND JEWELLER
MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

HERE THEY Are:

Pumping Engines
Pump-Jacks
Tank Heaters
Stock Tanks
Grinders
Fanning Mills
Wild Oat Separators

Wagons Buggies and Sleighs

Brady & Morgan

Implement Dealers, Custom Grinding,

Coal, Etc.

Dining-Room SUIT

—in Solid Oak Fumed Finish consisting of Buffet, Round Extension Table, 5 small Chairs and Arm Chair in Solid Leather Slip Seats.

Special, $162.50

G. L. JAMES

FURNITURE AND HOUSE FURNISHINGS

Winter Hardware

Guaranteed Axes (Diamond A), the brand of quality. Velvet Blued Finish with White Hickory Handles

Cross-cut and One-man Saws
Corrugated Stock Tanks
Cast Iron Tank Heaters

Featty Pumps for deep or shallow wells

A. A. GRAHAM

Ponoka, Alberta

Phone 104

CUTTING
OF TOWN AND DISTRICT

Local News.

Mr and Mrs P. A. McKelvey are visiting in Calgary.

Mrs. Dr. Budd has been spending a few days in Edmonton, visiting with her sister.

Mr and Mrs Terger Jenne and family, of Wetaskiwin, have been spending a few days in town, visiting with the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs M. B. Kyler.

J. D. McGillivray, of Newbridge, was in our midst for a couple of days last week. John can always rely on a hearty welcome in Ponoka.

Dr. Foster has some friends in California who were generous enough to send him a supply of the choicest oranges. And thus it only has the doctor been benefited, but his friends were not overlooked by any means.

We are experiencing a cold snap at present, but it must be gratifying to learn that all is well. Just give a look at the birth rate published in this issue. Marvelous and decidedly encouraging.

This must be the dog days—or rather, to be more correct, dog nights—judging by the unearthly sounds which are keeping ninety per cent of our citizens awake at night, jolting as if every one from Carlton to Hobbs was paying the respects to our town at present.

Owing to various attractions in Ponoka this week, the lantern slide lecture has been postponed until next Thursday week, when a special program is being prepared. "Tartan of the Apes," shown this week, a picture film, should be seen by all school children on account of the beautiful scenes of nature study.

The Farmers' Convention in meeting in Edmonton this week, and many delegates are in attendance from our district. Some very weighty problems are up for discussion, and the time will be fully occupied. May the convention be profitable one.

Saturday evening a change to look in the weather, and on Sunday morning thermometer register something below 30—the coldest yet experienced this winter. This being the middle of January, there is nothing to complain of. About as it is a winter, so far, as could be expected for these parts.

Four risks of Ponoka curlers and Wetaskiwin on Thursday evening and tried conclusions with rinks in that city. Play was exceedingly keen, and although the Ponoka boys were beaten on points by a narrow margin, they were delighted with the outing, and returned home in great praise for the capable manner in which they were treated by their hosts. A return game is being looked forward to.

L.O.O.F. No. 1909 has decided to postpone the social in aid of the orphan's home until the last Wednesday in February. There will be something special for February this. See poster.

Philip Evans and family returned from their trip to Vancouver on Saturday. Although it was very wet at the coast they had a good holiday.

Miss Mae Laycock and Miss Polly Hutehinson have taken positions on the Ponoka school staff. They are both local young ladies, and the Herald wishes them success in their duties.

The Maudie Henderson Stock Co. occupied the Empress Theatre for three nights last week, and put on three delightful plays. It will be pleasing to the Ponoka people to learn that the company expects to pay a return visit on an early date.

CLARK.—On Wednesday, Jan. 10th, to Mr and Mrs G. D. Clark, a son.

PAULSEN.—On Monday, Jan. 10, to Mr and Mrs Grant Paulsen, a son.

REID.—On Tuesday, Jan. 11th, to Mr and Mrs Joe Reid, a daughter.

INNES.—On Tuesday, January 11th, to Mr and Mrs C. S. Innes, a son (still born).

NELSON.—On Wednesday, Jan. 12th, to Mr and Mrs Roy Nelson, a daughter.

McLELLAND.—On Sunday, Jan. 16th, to Mr and Mrs D. McLelland of Uxona, a son.

A meeting will be held in the Rest Rooms on Saturday, January 22nd, at 3 p.m. sharp, to decide ways and means of raising money to meet the expenses of the Rest Room. All interested parties are requested to be present.

The special services at the Union Church commenced on Sunday. There were good attendances, and the evangelist, Mr Joseph Robinson, met with a warm reception. He gave two strong addresses. The meetings will be continued each evening at eight o'clock. All are heartily invited.

Coming to Empress an all-British picture 12 10 on Jan. 28 and 29.

Dr. Mecklenburg, eye specialist, will be at the Royal Hotel, Ponoka, on Thursday, February 3rd.

CHURCH NEWS

BAPTIST

Services for January 23rd.—Lecture, Sunday school at 2 p.m., divine service at 3. Ponoka 7th subject, "The Last Words of the Last Apostle." You will find a very real welcome at the home-like church.

Owing to the special meetings in the Union church we will disperse with our mid-week meeting, also, the illustrated lecture under the auspices of the Phila-Gips has been postponed.

EXON CHURCH

Sunday, Jan. 23.—Special evangelistic services, conducted by Mr Joseph Robinson, Irish evangelist 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m., also each week night except Saturday at 8 p.m. Song service commences at 7:45. All are welcome, B. in 11m.

REXALL CHERRY BARK COUGH SYRUP

FOR

Coughs, Colds and Hoarseness

Pleasant to taste, prompt in action

35c, 60c and $1 sizes

THE BIRD DRUG CO., LTD.

Phone 98

PONOKA, ALBERTA

Kennedy & Russell's

Winter Goods

We are clearing out all lines of

WINTER GOODS

At Greatly Reduced Prices

MEN'S FUR COATS, FUR ROBES

MACKINAW AND SHEPHERD

COATS

SWEATERS, UNDERWEAR, MITTS

AND GLOVES

You will find our Prices on any of above lines enticing

Specials in Groceries

25-lb. Box Seeded Raisins $5.00
Special Blend Coffee in bulk, per lb. 45c
Good Cooking Figs, per lb. 10c

KENNEDY & RUSSELL

General Merchants

Phone 9

Ponoka, Alberta

NOTICE

TINSMITHING OF ALL KINDS

We are prepared to do Acetylene Welding, Radiator Repairs and Breezing

Flue and Steam Fitting

Gas Engines Repaired

See us about Lightning Rod Wire and the guarantee that goes with it.

WORK GUARANTEED

BROWN & WIANCKO

Opposite Bell's Store

PONOKA ALBERTA

NOTICE

I have taken over the Blacksmith Shop from H. J. Rice, and joining the Ponoka Engineering Works, and I am now in a position to do General Engine Repair Work and Blacksmithing. City Acetylene Welding. My experience is at your service.

J. D. GREEN

Try a load of Sturgeon Valley Coal, at $9.50 per ton, delivered.

FRADY & MORGAN.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

BANFF Winter Sports CARNIVAL

January 29th to February 5th

Banff's famous Toboggan Slide open at the time. Swimming in the Hot Sulphur Pools. Hockey. Ski Jumping. Snow-shoeing. Trap Shooting. Curling. Ice-skiing every night. Comfortable Hotel accommodation. Make your reservations early.

For information and literature apply to any Canadian Pacific Agent, or J. E. BRIDGEMAN, District Passenger Agent, Calgary.

Farms for Sale

A Section, all fenced, with 3 rivers, plenty water, $25 per acre, good terms

E. E. OWENS

AGENT FOR THE C.G. CO.

Phone 108 R. No. 1, Ponoka.

The Best Procurable

A choice selection of BEEF, VEAL, PORK, LAMB and MUTTON.

Try our Pickled Pork, Corn Beef, Pigs Feet and Tripe.

HOME-MADE SAUSAGE AND HAMBURGER A SPECIALTY.

Home-Cured Bacon and Ham—Hand-dressed Lard and Drilling

THE CITY MEAT MARKET

JENSEN & KLECKNER, Props.

Phone 86. Hides and Live Stock bought. Ponoka, Alberta

A GOOD MIXED FARM

160 Acres of deep black loam soil. 110 Acres under cultivation, balance hay and pasture land. All open and level, on first-class road, 9 1/2 miles from town, phone, rural mail. Barn, 30x40 with hip roof and well fitted up inside. 4-roomed house, granary and chicken house, good well, and is situated 1 1/2 miles from school. This is an extra good Quarter Section and price low at $40 per acre with terms.

A few good Residences in Town for Sale

J. A. FARRELL

Phone 22 Ponoka, Alberta

Love of The Wild

— BY —
ARCHIE P. McKEISHNIE

Printed by Special Arrangement with The Allen, Toronto, Ont.

(Continued)

"Maybe you'd like to move to Bridgmont," said Mary Ann. "I know what you mean," returned Mrs. Ross, "but I ain't bankin' for Mr. Smythe's love exactly. You believe he is a good man, don't you?" she asked, frowning her black eyes on her daughter's face.

"I don't matter what I believe," said Mary Ann. "Well, Mr. Smythe has been a Christian for a long time. He ought to know what's best for ordinary folk. He says, 'Mr. Ross, I would like to see the hypocrite in this world taken out of it. It would be a fine world then,' says he."

"He wouldn't be here to see how far, though," smiled Mrs. Ross. "Then you don't believe what he says?"

"I don't believe what he says, and I don't believe what that Watson man says, either. Here I am, a widow, and they both say, 'You're the best man, and Mr. Simpson is as bad as they are.'"

Widow Ross dropped a dish on the floor. "Why, what you are talkin' about?" she cried. "You must be crazy, Mary Ann. What if that doctor should hear you?"

"Well, it wouldn't hurt him to hear me, though," smiled Mrs. Ross. "It again," she told it to him once more.

Widow Ross stood speechless. "Well, I never!" she said with amazement, when she could find words.

Mary Ann drew her tall figure up and her big eyes stared at him. "The other day when Mr. Simpson and Mr. Watson came here, I was killed from what they said was a fall in the river. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

"And why shouldn't I believe them?" she asked. "I didn't go to the river, and I don't care how much they say. I believe them, and I don't care how much they say."

It Works Wonders On Catarrhal Discharge

Simple as A, B, C to Drive Away Cold With "CATARRHOZONE"

When your throat rattles, your mucus and chest are sore, your throat is inflamed with cold, and you are troubled with Catarrhal Discharge, relief is at hand. Catarrhozone is a natural remedy, and it works wonders on the throat, chest and lungs. It is a natural remedy, and it works wonders on the throat, chest and lungs.

Anyhow, Foster is gold and take his brand. He's as good as any of the other brands. He's as good as any of the other brands. He's as good as any of the other brands.

"Now, make you'll explain this to me," said Foster. "I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

"I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you. I'll explain this to you."

Mammoth Radio Station

French Station, When Completed Will Work Easily With All Stations In The World.

A recent despatch from St. Asie, France, says: Loris Deschamps, under secretary of state for posts and telegraphs, laid the cornerstone of a radio station in the world, capable of transmitting with two sending instruments 24,000 words, hourly, or receiving and deciphering simultaneously 80,000 words hourly on six instruments. The alternating system will be used.

The Lafayette station, which now is the most powerful, has a maximum range of 15,000 miles, but experience has shown, according to the Ministry of Telegraphs, that it cannot be depended upon for more than 4,500 miles regularly, being liable, for instance, to work quite factually with Argentina.

The Sainte Asie station, when complete in 1924, will, it is estimated, work easily and regularly with all stations in the world. The station will be erected for the Compagnie Generale Telegraphique Sautel (General Wireless Telegraph Company). Thirty per cent of the capital invested in the company is British, 20 per cent French, the French Cable Company holding 20 per cent of the total capital.

The company has a working agreement with the American Radio Corporation. The striking physical features of the plant will be 10 steel towers, each 100 feet high. A number of special telegraph wires will connect the station with the Central Telegraph Office.

Remarkable Relics Ancient Tennis Balls Are Found in Westminster Hall

Workmen repairing Westminster Hall recently found two round old balls in the dust and cobwebs in the old oak rafters 90 feet above the ground. When they were taken down and examined, they were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls. They were found to be ancient tennis balls.

Thinks Case Should Be Settled in Canada

Raney Calls Appeal to Throne Myth And Superstition.

"A myth and a superstition is the so-called inalienable and time-honored right of carrying appeals to the foot of the throne," declared Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general, in Ottawa, in an address to the Toronto Board of Trade. Mr. Raney was speaking at the banquet given by the board at the hotel where he was staying. He was a private member of the board. Such a privilege as appealing to the privy council did not exist in England or in Scotland, Mr. Raney added, and in his opinion it should not exist in Canada.

Hon. Mr. Raney, under-secretary of the Ministry of Education, as pointing out that such appeals inflicted injustice on poor litigants who could not carry appeals to the throne, and he said the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Mr. Raney argued that Canada was big enough and had judges big enough to handle all the cases that came before them. He said that the case of a widow in Northern Ontario whose son had been killed in the war, and whose property was carried to the privy council, was a case of injustice.

Stop that pain!
Quick, warning, counter! Find relief from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc., in five minutes. Guaranteed. Good for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, etc.

(Made in Canada)
Sloan's Liniment (Pain Remover)

O-g-n of Wealth
Capital Not Always Plundered Amassed By Unborn Men.

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

The "Mirrors of Downing Street" has a paragraph which is well worth considering in larger and other circles. It says: "Democracy, nursing what it deems to be the economic wrongs, and not unreasonably regarding the wealthy classes with bitter anger, has yet to learn that capital is the product of those who lived and labored, and that the property of these British islands was laid in no small measure by the thrift and enterprise of those who lived and labored because they thought deeply. Capital, without which labor could have done little, is not a creature of the sky, but the result of the industry of the men who created it."

A New Style Tractor

British One-Way Motor Plow Proves To Be a Success.

Among the most interesting of recent engineering in British agricultural engineering is the one-way motor plow, which has appeared upon the British market in the form—judging from field experiments—of a successful model. Upon a commercial basis, this and the other one-way plows will make their appearance. The one-way plow in the present case consists of six plow beams, three being suspended from each end of the main carriage, which is mounted on the lines of a tractor body and is driven by an engine sufficiently powerful to haul three furrows in the heaviest clay land. The forward shafts are held out of work as the motor plow proceeds across the field and automatically drop into work when the machine begins its return journey. Plowing therefore becomes a succession of forward and return movements.

One type of one-way plow has the advantage that it can be used as a tractor to haul another implement or a laden wagon, for the plow can be removed.

One type of one-way plow has the advantage that it can be used as a tractor to haul another implement or a laden wagon, for the plow can be removed.

